

Forty-Four Wildcats Compose Squad To Meet TCU In Cotton Bowl Battle

By Larry Meyer

Cotton Bowl!
There is an air of impending excitement hanging over the campus as the subjects of Coach Bryant prepare for their third straight bowl game.
Forty-four players are practicing in anticipation of another bowl victory to the recently added honors. These men will comprise the traveling squad which will leave on the morning of Dec. 28 for Dallas.
Following the squad will be approximately 10,000 fans plus the band. The "Marching 100" will leave Dec. 30 and will take part in half time activities. Another personality on the trip will be Miss Jean Hardwick, UK Homecoming Queen, who will represent UK in the Cotton Bowl Queen ceremonies.

Bowl Began In 1937

The Cotton Bowl was inaugurated on New Year's Day back in 1937 as a private enterprise but soon grew out of hand and was taken over by the Southwestern Conference in 1941.

The history of the bowl has seen such players as Sammy Baugh, T.C.U.; Whizzer White, Colorado; Banks McFadden, Clemson; Bobby Layne of Texas, and many other all time greats, performing on the Dallas turf.

This year will see another great master of the pigskin in the person of Babe Parilli. Texas fans were impressed by the play of the Kentucky Babe in the S.M.U. game in 1949 and against Texas this year. Comparison between Babe and Sammy Baugh, former TCU great, will be a thought in the minds of quite a few of the patrons Jan. 1. In putting Babe beside Baugh, the following records should be taken into mind. In 33 games in three years, Babe completed 331 passes in 592 attempts for an average of 55.9 and a total of 4351 yards with 50 touchdown passes. Baugh, presently with the professional Washington Redskins, led an undermanned TCU team for three years, threw 599 passes, 274 of which were complete for an overall total of 3479 yards. His average was 45.8%. Baugh held the national pass completion record until Parilli broke it this year.

Frogs' Bowl Record Good

Texas Christian's bowl record is an impressive one with two wins in the Sugar Bowl, one win each in the Cotton and Orange Bowls.

Little need be said for the Wildcats' bowl achievements under Coach Bryant. With wins in the Sugar Bowl and the Great Lakes Bowl and a loss in the Orange Bowl in the last five years, UK has come into its own as a modern day powerhouse. This year's bowl bid completes the cycle of major bowls.

Texas Christian's 32-21 loss to Texas and Kentucky's 7-6 loss to the same team seem to give the Wildcats a slight advantage but comparative scores don't hold true very often in the calibre of games played in this Bowl.

T.C.U. goes into the game with a 6-4 record, one of the worst in the history of the bowl. The Horned Frogs run from a spread formation, commonly called the Meyer spread. Led by the running and passing of the polished and versatile Gil Bartosh, and the running of Bobby Jack Floyd, the charges of Coach Meyer won the right to represent the conference in the Cotton Bowl with a 4-1 mark in league play.

Bryant Predicts Victory

In commenting on this game, Bryant said, "We're going down there and whooping an' holler and have a good time and beat anything the Southwest has to offer."

The team will be treated to the annual Cotton Bowl Luncheon before the game, and after the game an awards banquet will be given to honor both squads. Each player will receive a special bowl watch, engraved appropriately, and Cotton Bowl blankets.

But before all this "whooping and hollering" the squad has to get down to the business at hand, namely preparation for the game after a two week lay off following the Thanksgiving holidays. The team will work out in Lexington until Dec. 22, go home for Christmas and resume drills Dec. 26. In Dallas, the squad will establish headquarters at the Stoneleigh Hotel and practice at Delih stadium, one of the largest municipally owned high school stadiums in the country.

Rather than moving south to warmer climates, as was done last year, Coach Bryant got in touch with the weatherman and was told that the weather would be as good here as in any part of the south. So practice was called for Lexington.

For Kentuckians making the Texas trip, many and varied are the attractions the city will hold during the holiday season. The Southwest pre-season basketball tournament, Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," night club parties on New Year's Eve, and a dance for the students from the participating schools, are but a few of the planned entertainments.

Conference Manages Bowl

The story of the Cotton Bowl is a short but interesting one. After a Dallas oilman conceived the idea in 1937, it ran along successfully but he turned it over to a group of Dallas business men. These men ran the project until 1941 when it was turned into a conference project, governed by a board representing each school in the conference. Every game has been a sell-out which has helped to further the bowl's progress to a point where it is second in importance and value only to the Rose Bowl. It has an advantage in that respect because it is not tied up by contract with any other conference and therefore can pick from a wide group of top teams each year. The record of wins in past years are:

1937—T.C.U. 26, Marquette 6; 1938—Rice 28, Colorado 14; 1939—St. Mary's 20, Texas Tech 13; 1940—Clemson 6, Boston College 3; 1941—Texas A. & M. 13, Fordham 12; 1942—Alabama 29, Texas A&M 21; 1943—Texas 14, Georgia Tech 7; 1944—Randolph Field 7, Texas 7; 1945—Oklahoma 0, L.S.U. 0; 1946—Texas 40, Missouri 27; 1947—Arkansas 0, L.S.U. 0; 1948—S.M.U. 13, Pa. State College 13; 1949—S.M.U. 21, Oregon 13; 1950—Rice 27, North Carolina U. 13; 1951—Tennessee 20, Texas 14.

Smith, Lowery Attend Court In New York

A trophy presentation in the College of Law this week served as a "send-off" program for Robert Hall Smith and Jack Lowery Jr. They are representing the Midwest at the two-day national moot court series in New York which began yesterday.

The UK law team, which won the honor of representing the Midwest by winning the regional series in St. Louis Nov. 30, presented the "Bar of St. Louis Moot Court Competition Award" and a smaller plaque, won in the regionals, to the College of Law before leaving for New York.

Smith and Lowery made the presentation of the trophies at a meeting of the Student Bar Association Tuesday afternoon.

Associate Justice Harold H. Burton of the United States Supreme Court is scheduled to preside over the final argument in the national series today, to be held at the House of the New York City Bar Association, sponsors of the national moot court tournament.

The case to be argued by the UK team in the moot trial involves the right of a witness to refuse to testify before a Congressional investigating committee when the refusal is based on objection to television and radio broadcasting of the hearings.

Serigraphs On Display In Fine Arts

Serigraphs by Sylvia Wald, former Kentuckian now living in New York, are on exhibition from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. this week at the Fine Arts Building.

The collection includes 33 prints of the nationally known artist, and is circulated by the Allen R. Hite Art Institute of the University of Louisville and the National Serigraph Society.

Serigraphy is a print process that uses a silk screen through which colors are forced by a squeegee. Mrs. Wald creates her pictures while printing, unlike other artists who often use a master drawing.

A native of Philadelphia, the artist lived in Louisville during World War II. During that time, one of her prints was selected by the Library of Congress for the "America at War" series. Another print was awarded a purchase prize in the annual show of Kentucky and Southern Indiana artists.

Mrs. Wald's serigraphs won first prizes in the 1949 and 1950 National Serigraph Society's contests, and she won another purchase prize this year at the Brooklyn Museum.

Her works are in the permanent collections of the New York public library, Museum of Modern Art, Philadelphia Museum of Art, National Gallery of Canada, Art Institute of Chicago, the Nelson Rockefeller collections, and others.

More Names Added To SGA Resolutions

More anti-gambling resolution signatures have been added to the Kernel count of last week. The total is now 980 valid names.

President Bob Smith explained to the SGA assembly Monday night how the original estimate was made. His statistical method received both criticism and passive approval from assembly members.

Although he claimed the Kernel report was inaccurate, Smith did not refute any portions of last week's article.

He intimated that Dean A. D. Kirwan's account of the estimate method was nearly correct. Smith said the original 4000 names were obtained by multiplying the number of resolutions sent out to the faculty by the average number of names found on resolutions that had been turned in.

Constitutionalists Disapprove
"When we made the estimate," said Smith, "no one anticipated any serious question of the number."

The assembly members objected to Smith's method were Constitutionalists. Their point of dissent was that Smith couldn't count what he didn't have. They thought it invalid to reach conclusions from only a sample number of resolutions.

Henry Neel made a motion that the assembly publicize a statement acknowledging the erroneous estimate and saying that it was mistaken. The assembly decided to appoint a committee to draw up the statement. The committee's statement reads as follows:

"In an effort to correct any erroneous impressions given by the newspaper accounts of the results of SGA's anti-gambling resolutions, we, the members of the assembly, would like to make clear that the original 4000 signatures were not a count, but an estimate, based on a ratio arrived at by study of resolutions turned in."

Smith Claims Some Loss
Smith claimed that part of the discrepancy between his original estimation and the Kernel figures was due to the loss of some of the resolutions. He did not say definitely how many were lost.

During the past week, the SGA secretary phoned all department heads and urged members of the faculty to turn in any resolutions that they might have. These additional signatures were added to the Kernel total of last week.

Earlier in the meeting, Jess Gardner gave a report on the student directories. He said the directories would go to the printer this week and that they should be ready for distribution after the Christmas vacation.

Jerry Bass reported that the teacher rating project had worked through the professors in the English Department. He asked President Smith to appoint someone to take over the project because he goes out of office next week.

Commenting on the ratings, Bass said he thought they were appreciated by the majority of teachers. He said he had received many letters from other schools asking for information on the program.

Game Excuse Is OK

Attendance at the Cotton Bowl game will be accepted in all colleges of the University as a legitimate excuse to void the penalty for absence after the holidays, Dr. H. L. Donovan said this week.

Choristers Will Give Christmas Program

The UK Choristers will present their annual Christmas program Sunday at 4 and 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

The Choristers, a group of 54 singers under the direction of Mildred S. Lewis, will present works ranging from the sixteenth century composer, Vittoria, to modern compositions. A special feature of the program will be audience participation in the singing of familiar carols.

Ruth Trimble, violin student in the Music Department, will appear as soloist, accompanied by Arnold Blackburn, instructor in organ at the University and organist at Christ Church.

The Choristers, in former years, have given programs in many of Kentucky's towns, and have done a number of radio broadcasts. Members of the University will serve as ushers.

The professional, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," by Willis, will be followed by "Fanfare for Christmas Day," by Shaw, and "O Wondrous Nativity," by Vittoria.

For the second group, the Choristers will sing "The Night Has Fallen Asleep," by Gross, "March of the Three Kings," a French carol, "The Three Kings," by Willen, "We Saw Him Sleeping," by Booth, and "Hodie, Christus natus est (Today Christ Is Born)," by Willen.

Four carols comprise the third group. They are "O Nightingale, Awake!" a Swiss carol, "As Lately We Watched," an Austrian carol, "The Virgin at the Manger," by Perillou, and "Gloucestershire Was-sail," an English carol.

The audience will join the singing of the fourth group, "Joy to the World," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night," and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

Miss Trimble will play "Andante Cantabile," by Tschalkovsky.

The final group will include "Glory to God in the Highest," by Pergolesi, and "The Shepherd's Song," by Dickinson.

Admission to the program is free.

Detectives Raid Club On Student's Warrant

Detectives of the Lexington police force Saturday afternoon arrested Cleve Biggerstaff, 122 Hamilton Park, Lexington, on a charge of setting up and operating a handbook. Biggerstaff was taken into custody on a warrant sworn to by Jesse Wright, president of the newly-formed Student Action Society.

Biggerstaff was arrested at the Rosebud Club, 121 N. Mill Street, after Wright had made affidavit before Police Judge Thomas J. Ready that he placed a $2 bet with Biggerstaff at the Club on Friday.

Wright told the judge he placed a $2 bet on a horse in the ninth race at Tropical Park in Florida. He also swore there were scratch sheets in the restaurants.

When arrested Biggerstaff denied accepting bets and said he had no federal stamp, since "I'm not running any book." The two detectives who searched the club said they found no gambling paraphernalia, other than one scratch sheet, in either the restaurant or its kitchen.

In Police Court Monday, Biggerstaff's trial was continued until next Tuesday.

Wright said he visited the Rosebud Club as a representative of the Student Action Society, which was formed to combat student gambling.

Last month, three business places were fined and their pinball machines destroyed after members of the society swore to warrants against them for paying off on free pinball games.

Dairy Contest Begins Tonight

A professor's showmanship contest for the title of best showman and a Milk Maid contest will be the features of the "Festivities" show at 7 p.m. tonight at the UK Dairy Center.

Dr. Roy E. Sigafus, assistant agronomist; Stanley Wald, agricultural education instructor; Jess Brooks, assistant professor of agricultural engineering; and Mrs. W. P. Clemmons, home economics instructor, will compete in the showmanship contest.

All co-eds enrolled at UK are eligible to enter the Milk Maid contest by calling 2367 before noon today.

A party in the Crabgrass room of the Stock Pavilion will follow the show. Door prizes will be dairy products.

Trophies will be given to the winning showman in both the Jersey and Holstein divisions. The winners

Donovans Express Holiday Good Wishes

May Christmas, 1951, be the happiest Yuletide you have ever known. May the New Year, 1952, prove to be a year of great promise as well as a year to bring great happiness for you. May all good things come your way and your heart's desires be attained. To every student and staff member the University administration extends good wishes for a joyous holiday season.

Herman and Nell Donovan

President Asks Students Study New Budget

President Herman L. Donovan asked students this week to study carefully the University's budget requests, and to inform their families about the budget.

In a statement to the Kernel, Dr. Donovan said:

"Through the years the University has grown in size and service until today it stands at the threshold of greatness. The University cannot afford to retreat from greatness. The State of Kentucky cannot afford to let this happen.

"As students here, you have a very real stake in the University's future. You should know more about its many services, and you should know what it must have if it is to continue giving more and more service to the people of Kentucky.

"We have prepared a booklet which tells something of the University's accomplishments and outlines its budget needs for the next two years. Copies of this brochure are being distributed by the Alumni Association to interested citizens throughout Kentucky. Within the next few days, students of the University will receive their copies of the booklet by campus mail or at the dormitories, sororities, and fraternities.

"I hope you will read this budget request carefully; then, take it home with you at Christmas time so that your family and friends also may have a better understanding of what the University is striving to do as the people want it to be."

CHARLES 'RED' HALE
Elected Vice President

Hale Beats Moore For Vice President By 185 Majority

Charles (Red) Hale, United Students Party, defeated Bacon Moore, Constitutionalists, by 185 votes in the race for vice president of the SGA Wednesday.

In the race for assembly seats, the United Students won six out of eleven vacancies. This gives them 18 seats in the assembly, a majority of three. The Constitutionalists now have 12 seats.

Henry Neel, SGA election committee chairman, estimated that 1369 students voted. This figure is a probable record for an "off" election. Last spring in a hotly contested major election, 1400 votes were cast. Commenting on the number of votes, Neel said it was encouraging to see more students taking an active interest in SGA.

In the College of Arts and Sciences, George Lawson, United Students Party, defeated Jess Gardner, Constitutionalists, for upper classman with a vote of 250 to 185. For upper classwoman, Dorothy King, Constitutionalists, beat Betsy Maury, United Students Party, 275 to 168.

Carter Defeats Bullock
Pete Carter, United Students Party, polled 239 over the 207 votes of Buzz Bullock, Constitutionalists, to win the lower classman seat. Elaine Moore, United Students Party, beat Emma Barnhill, Constitutionalists, 250 to 191 for lower classwoman.

The College of Engineering elected one upper classman. T. I. Glasscock, United Students Party, defeated Ray Thompson, Constitutionalists, by a vote of 97 to 79.

Robbie Hackworth, Constitutionalists, won the race for man-at-large in the College of Education. He defeated John Brannon, United Students Party, 47 to 44.

Constitutionalists Take Commerce
In the Commerce College, Charles Neel, Constitutionalists, beat John Chandler, United Students Party, 116 to 96 to capture the lower classman seat.

The College of Agriculture elected both a lower classman and an upper classman. For upper classman, Robert E. Jones beat Stan Dickson, 196 to 91. Bill Gattson beat Denzil Boyd 178 to 104 for lower classman. Both the winners were Constitutionalists.

Vu Tam, Ich, United Students Party, defeated Warren Porter, Constitutionalists, 74 to 10 to win the man-at-large seat in the Graduate School.

In the race for vice president, Hale carried Arts and Sciences, Law, Engineering, and the Graduate School. Moore carried Education, Commerce, and Agriculture.

Candidates Comment

After the election Hale said, "I had a very formidable opponent. I shall endeavor to do my utmost for a greater SGA and a greater school spirit."

Moore's only comment was, "I'm tired."

The lack of secret ballots was pointed out by Henry Neel as a bad element of the elections. He said SGA would try to change the system for next spring's elections.

For this election, students were required to sign their names to the registration book which was numbered to match the numbers on the ballots. This process was used so as to prevent any ballot box stuffing. The names in the registration book were checked against deans' lists of valid enrolled students.

Subscription Books Must Be Returned

All organizational representatives who have not turned in their 1952 Kentuckian subscription books must do so today, according to Dave Bere, Kentuckian business manager. They may be turned in to Room 210, Journalism Building.

The Kentuckian business staff will meet at 4 p.m. today in the Kentuckian office. Bere asked that staff members bring their subscription books at that time, also.

Basketball Team Favored To Win Fourth Sugar Bowl Championship

By James Turley

Coach Adolph Rupp's "little boys" will be favored to cop their fourth Sugar Bowl championship when they drift down South to take part in the Sugar Bowl festivities at New Orleans beginning with their tussle with Brigham Young on Dec. 28. The winner of this game will battle the St. Louis-Villanova winner for the championship on Dec. 29, after the consolation game between the two first round losers.

On the basis of their number one ranking, it appears the only worry the Cats have is finding a place on their trophy shelf for the Sugar Bowl trophy. However, the great tussle put up by the St. Xavier Musketeers indicated that the Cats are missing the height of big Bill Spivey under the baskets, and the lack of reserve strength may be an important factor especially if a couple of UK's big guns foul out.

Another factor which the folks around the bluegrass aren't likely to forget is that UK has never beaten the St. Louis Billikins. Last year Kentucky was the favorite, but the Billikins upset them, 43-42, in an overtime period. UK rooters had to be satisfied with third place when the Cats trimmed Syracuse, 69-59, in the consolation contest.

In 1949 the Billikins, coached by Ed Hickey, did it again by defeating what many consider to have been the greatest team ever assembled, the "fabulous five". Ed Hickey has another strong team at St. Louis this year and can be expected to give the Cats a tough game if both teams can get by first round foes. That is a pretty big "if", for both Villanova and Brigham Young usually turn up with strong teams.

Despite their losses to St. Louis, the Cats have had considerable success in "Sugar Bowl land" where they have an overall record of six wins and four losses while capturing three championships.

In 1938 the Cats won the title by whipping Pittsburgh, 40-29. Two years later they copied another title by edging Ohio State 36-30.

They suffered their first Sugar Bowl loss when Indiana defeated them 48-45 in 1941. They went down to their second straight defeat when Coach Hank Iba's ball possessor crew defeated them 37-31 in 1947.

After defeating Tulane, 78-47 in the opener, the Cats dropped the championship game in an overtime period to the Billikins, 42-40, in the finals in 1949.

Kentucky did some upsetting of its own in 1950 when Bill Spivey, Skippy Whitaker, Bobby Watson, and Shelby Linville were brash young sophomores. The Cats squeaked by Villanova, 57-56, in a overtime period, and then came back the next night to topple Bradley, 71-66, for the championship.

Only Students Can Solve The University's Great Crisis

This is the last Kernel for 1951.

In many ways we are glad to be able to make that statement. The past year and the past month and a half in particular have been hard ones for the University and the Kernel. During this period we have been obligated to print many news stories and editorials that we had hoped would never have to be written.

The next Kernel will be dealing with the events of a new year. We have a feeling that the new year will bring the University better fortune than the past one has.

This feeling is due to a great extent to the rise in student thinking which has been evidenced as a result of the events of recent weeks. Many students still take little interest in anything that takes place on the campus, it is true, but an increasing number seem to be giving serious thought to the problem of just where the University is going. These students want to know what steps can be taken to aid the University in crossing that "threshold of greatness" we are always close to, but never seem able to reach.

We cannot detail a step by step plan; our own thinking on the subject has not advanced that far. We do feel, however, that there is a step that could and should be taken during the holidays by every student.

This step would require no superhuman sacrifice, nor would it interfere with the students' regular schedule of holiday events. It would simply consist of students showing through their actions and conversations to those not connected with the University that constructive work is being done here, and that all UK students do not have a "what's the use" attitude concerning campus problems.

We do not mean by this that students should try to ignore or gloss over the recent basketball scandal, which is bound to enter into many of their conversations with those not directly connected with the University. We mean that they should make an effort to show that this is but a small part of the University, that the larger and more important part of UK, the educational plant, is still in good operating shape.

We believe that all the information concerning the University should be known, be it favorable or unfavorable, but information which highlights the unfavorable aspects of the University should not be allowed to distort the actual picture.

Students should realize that the University is facing an educational crisis which could prove to be far more disastrous than the athletic difficulties that we have had. The athletic situation can be, and is being remedied by administrative action.

If the proposed budget for the coming two years is not approved by the legislature, correct administrative action could aid but not remedy the situation that would result from insufficient funds to maintain the University at its present academic level. Student support of the budget could very easily have a great effect on its passage. Legislatures will not be too inclined to pass a bill to aid a group if that very group is not in favor of its passage.

Students need not turn into lobbyists to accomplish the desired effect. The mere indication to their state legislators that they understand what the budget passage means to the University and the state could have a great deal of effect.

The Christmas Story

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem.

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is to come pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

Frats Grow Up?

UK fraternities will take a step toward maturity tomorrow when they begin the first UK Help Week program.

Fraternities because of their close organization have a great opportunity to serve the campus and they have often done so. But the adverse publicity they have received for the childish, destructive, and dangerous stunts that have often been a part of Hell Week has more than offset the good publicity they received for their worthwhile accomplishments. This publicity has reflected upon the University as well as the Greek organizations.

The next logical step to maturity, it seems to us, is definite cooperative action on the part of UK fraternities to remedy the poor scholastic condition of local fraternities as pointed out by the report recently released by the College Fraternity Scholarship Association. At last week's IFC meeting a committee was formed to "consolidate ideas for a more progressive scholarship program." We will be waiting for the committee report.

A Christmas Poem

We've searched both high and low in every volume known to man, because we'd like to be a little different if we can. We've hunted in the dusty tomes with wonder, awe, and fear to find a unique greeting for the Christmas and New Year.

But after all our deep research, in realms of rhyme and reason, we've found there is no brand new way to greet you at this season. So, although you will hear this phrase a thousand times, or near: We hope you have a Merry Christmas and a Good New Year.

The Students Speak: Readers Conduct Poll On Anti-Gambling Resolution

Dear Editor:

In the Friday, November 30 edition of the Kernel you stated that, "Over 4000 names of UK students are on (the anti-gambling) Resolution." We believe that you have inadvertently created a false impression by printing this apparently inaccurate statistic.

In order to determine the actual facts of the case we have conducted a poll of more than three per cent of the student body to discover just what percentage actually signed the petition.

Because the population of a university is in general a homogeneous group and because we have taken into account the relative sizes of the various colleges and the proportion of males to females in them we believe that the poll is a representative cross section of the student body.

To find out how well the pledge was publicized we asked: "Have you ever heard of the anti-gambling petition?" NINETY FOUR PER CENT ANSWERED YES TO THIS QUESTION indicating that the SGA had done a good job in bringing the petition to the attention of the student body.

The next question on the poll was, "Did you have an opportunity to sign the petition?", to which seventy percent answered yes.

Most of the students interviewed stated that the pledge was read to them in class and that was where they signed it. Few students seem to have signed the petition posted on the bulletin boards; however many admitted signing fictitious names to these.

Our next question was, "Did you sign the anti-gambling petition?" ONLY TWENTY THREE PER CENT OF THOSE POLLED SAID THAT THEY HAD SIGNED THE PETITION, and only twenty percent of the males polled had signed it. Sixty eight per cent of those who said that they had had an opportunity to sign did not sign the petition.

Since the student enrollment is nearly five thousand and since our poll indicates that only twenty three per cent of the student body signed the petition it would appear that the number of valid, unduplicated signatures is much nearer 1200 than the 4000 claimed by the SGA.

It is interesting to note that quite a few of those interviewed said that they signed because they felt somewhat intimidated by the presence of a professor.

Finally we asked, "Do you think the petition will have any effect on gambling in UK?" The answer to this question is as follows:

Some effect—21%
No effect—65%
Not sure or no opinion—14%
On the whole those who signed the pledge were only slightly more enthusiastic about its benefits than the non-signers.

Of those who signed, thirty two per cent thought it would have some effect, whereas of the non-signers, eighteen per cent thought it would have some effect.

Sincerely yours,
Thomas Droege

SGA Congratulated By Dr. Donovan

To the Editor of KTB:

Through the Kernel I should like to express to the student body my genuine appreciation for the action of the Student Government Association in its effort to eliminate gambling on football, basketball and other sports conducted on the campus of the University of Kentucky. The notice that many students signed the petition to refrain from gambling and to help eliminate it from the environment of the University has been an action extremely encouraging to me, and I commend all of those who have had any part in bringing this about.

I also wish to congratulate the young men in the newly formed Student Action Society who have revealed to the officials of Lexington the existence of gambling machines in business houses near the University, and have brought about the destruction and elimination of these machines. Such machines are recognized as near relatives to the one-arm bandit, the only difference being that the pay-off is over the counter instead of through the machine when there is a pay-off, which is never too frequent.

The University is pleased to cooperate with legitimate business in the University community and welcomes its service to the students, but no business has a right to take from students their nickels, dimes and quarters to an illegitimate and illegal practice.

The young men who exposed these gambling devices merit our support and encouragement.

Offers Reward For Chime Playing

Dear Editor:

The article in a recent Kernel concerning the chimes in Memorial Hall was very interesting and informative. I was particularly interested in the fact that the organ in Memorial Hall might be played for the benefit of the whole campus by using the amplifier in the tower.

Unfortunately, after many years at UK, I have heard the chimes only once. So far as I know the organ music is never heard through the amplifier.

Since Christmas is almost here may I make a suggestion? Why not have some organ music played by a student from 11:50 a.m. until 12 noon each day? If no student will volunteer for this ten minute stint each day at noon, why not play something Christmasy on the chimes at 11:50 a.m. each day so everyone could hear it? Has it ever occurred to anyone at UK that practically none of the student body is around for the 5 p.m. concert?

At Cornell, the noon concert on the chimes is a treat traditionally enjoyed by all—especially at Christmas time. Why not at UK?

I enclose herewith one dollar as a reward for the student of organ music who gives us the first 11:50 a.m. concert of Jingle Bells, etc., etc.

Best Wishes,
S. Claus

UK Students Invited To Dance In Dallas On New Year's Eve

Here's big news for everyone that is Cotton Bowl bound! The Cotton Bowl Athletic Association will sponsor a New Year's Eve dance for students of the University and the Southwest Conference schools in the Student Union Building on the campus of Southern Methodist University from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Cotton Bowl Queen Presented
A well known orchestra will play for dancing and an outstanding floor show will be staged by students from the various Southwest Conference schools. The Cotton Bowl Queen and all of the princesses will be presented at the dance.

The best news of all is that there will be no admission charge for the dance. Students will be admitted upon presentation of student identification cards.

Pat Hall Holds Tea Dance
Patterson Hall will hold an informal Christmas tea dance from 4 to 7 p.m. Saturday in the main reception room of the dorm. Kaye Bromby, social chairman, is in charge of the dance. Betty Woody is chairman of the refreshment committee, Coeette Baker, chairman of decorations; Libby Russman, chairman of invitational committee. During intermission the girls may take their dates to the Christmas dinner in the dorm dining room. Dave Parry and his orchestra will play for the dance.

Congratulations to the Alpha Delta Pi sorority for celebrating their 10th year anniversary on this campus Dec. 7.

Tonight, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a Christmas party in the new Journalism Building for all the J-students in honor of the German journalists. There will be Christmas decorations and a tree trimmed with gifts from the students. These tree gifts will be donated to a local orphanage.

Christmas Dances, Parties In Holiday Spirit

With vacation just three school days away every organization on the campus seems to have the Christmas spirit. Tonight there will be a Cosmopolitan Club Christmas dance at the SUB; the Pi Kappa Alphas are giving a party for children; Zeta Tau Alpha is having a Christmas house party; the Chi Omegas are having an informal Christmas dance at the house; and the Sigma Phi Epsilons are going caroling.

Tomorrow night's calendar will be busy with the Alpha Gamma Delta formal dance, an informal dance given by the Farm House at their house, a Delta Zeta Christmas party, Hamilton House dance, Phi Kappa Tau Christmas house party, and the Kappa Sigma Christmas dance. Several other fraternities and sororities are holding open house on this last big week-end before vacation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is entertaining Saturday night with its annual Dream Girl dance. The following are candidates for dream girl: Ann May, Delta Delta Delta; Lucille Mills, Kappa Alpha Theta; Sue Fields, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jenny Penn, Alpha Gamma Delta; Ruth Bishop, Kappa Delta; Barbara Williams, Delta Zeta; Mary Ellen Hogue, Seta Tau Alpha; Carmen Pigue, Chi Omega; Judy Henry, Alpha Delta Pi.

With only eight more shopping days until Christmas, we wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

News of Former Students

Tommy J. Stamper, airman USN, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stamper of Grayson, Ky., is serving with Air Transport Squadron 21 at Barber's Point Naval Air Station, Oahu, T.H.

Young Stamper enlisted in the Navy in September 1950, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Before entering the Navy he attended Prichard High School, Grayson, Berea College, and UK.

Emily Asbury, of Carlisle, is the new editor of the Carlisle Star.

A former journalism student at the University, she has originated a column, "Here-about," which is a regular feature of the Star.

Betty Ann Patton of Cynthiana has accepted a position with the Cynthiana office of the Kentucky Utilities Company.

Miss Patton is a graduate of Cynthiana High School and had two years college training at the University and at Christian College, Columbia, Mo.

Pfc. Henry L. Barton of Williamsburg, who was graduated last August from Parks College of Aeronautical Technology at St. Louis, is in an Air Force specialist school at present for further training.

He completed two years at the University before entering service.

Capt. Andrew W. Miracle of Loyall, Ky., has recently been assigned to the University of Louisville as assistant professor of air science and tactics.

A former student at Union College, Barbourville, and the University, Captain Miracle served with the Eighth Air Force in Europe during World War II. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf cluster, and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters.

Raymond C. Sanders of Hartford, former UK student, is attending Kirksville, Mo., College of Osteopathy and Surgery this year.

William G. Dean, airman apprentice USN, of Route 5, Harrodsburg, was graduated from the Avia-

Radio Arts Group To Visit Cincinnati Freight Yards

A crew of two radio-arts majors and Prof. E. G. Sulzer, head of the Radio Arts Department, will leave this afternoon to visit the Gest Street freight yards in Cincinnati. This trip is being made in connection with a series of recorded 30-minute programs the UK Radio Service is making. There will be nine of these programs, entitled "Transportation-Kentucky," describing the different types of transportation in Kentucky.

This trip will point out how freight entering and leaving Kentucky passes through these freight yards. The trip will be made in connection with a series of recorded 30-minute programs the UK Radio Service is making. There will be nine of these programs, entitled "Transportation-Kentucky," describing the different types of transportation in Kentucky.

He received his recruit training at Great Lakes and before entering the Navy attended the University.

S. Givens Ingram, of Harrodsburg, a member of the Firm of the Ingram Buick Co. in that city, has been named to the Harrodsburg Board of Education.

Mr. Ingram received his education at the Harrodsburg public schools, Millersburg Military Institute, and the University.

In connection with this program on railways there will also be a trip to the Southern Railway System at Ludlow, a repair shop for locomotives. And the recording crew will catch the "New Royal Palm" passenger train for a short trip. They will probably conclude with a stop at the dispatcher's office in Somerset.

These trips will be survey trips to map out the procedure for making the actual recordings for broadcast. Approximately four trips are necessary to complete the 30-minute program. The trip to make the actual recordings will probably be retaken the week after the Christmas holidays.

Last Friday the radio arts majors Ann Carson and Tom Skinner, with Prof. Sulzer, completed a portion of the railway program by riding the caboose of a freight from Danville to Lawrenceburg to get background noises. This trip completed about 10 minutes of one program.

Of the nine recordings, there will be two on railroads, two on water transportation, two on airways, one on bus transportation, and one on truck transportation.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 30...THE SQUIRREL

This nimble-minded undercracker almost tumbled for those tricky cigarette mildness tests. But he worked himself out of a tight spot when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness just can't be judged by a mere puff or one single sniff. Smokers everywhere have reached this conclusion—there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

UK Fans Look Beyond Christmas As Cage Team Charts Toughies And Gridders Prepare For Dallas

There are only eight more shopping days until Christmas but UK sports fans are looking beyond that. Only 18 more days and the Wildcats may have two more trophies on the racks. The experts are in agreement that both the cage Cats and the grid Cats are better than respective opponents they meet in the Sugar and Cotton Bowls.

The footballers have demanded much more attention by their long range jump into the Dallas extravaganza and little has been said about the Baron and his boys. The sudden transposition from football to basketball hasn't yet been accomplished by a lot of fans but by the time 1952 rolls around, the basketball spirit will be back to normal.

Rupp's Raiders meet Brigham Young in the first game of the Sugar Bowl tournament and hope to get another crack at St. Louis U. in the finals. The Cats remember how the Billikins prevented Kentucky from making a clean sweep of the New Orleans events last year.

The basketballers will be playing through December while the footballers are practicing. St. John's will come into the Coliseum Monday night and from here it looks like some ball game. The first national rankings of cage teams places the Wildcats on top with St. John's in second place. DePaul (Dec. 20) and U.C.L.A. (Dec. 28) will keep Rupp's boys occupied until the Sugar Bowl games Dec. 28-29.

The cagers have given warning they can score. Cliff Hagan, Lou Tsiropoulos, Frank Ramsey, and Shelby Linville looked great offensively in the first two games. Bob Watson hasn't found his long range eye yet but the little man can be expected to cut loose at any time. Skip Whitaker looks like the Skip of old with his speed and drive. Bill Evans, sophomore from Berea, looks like the best of the reserve group.

While the basketball team is meeting probably the toughest foes on its schedule, football Coach Bear Bryant will be putting his charges through the paces in practice. Regular drills are set to begin Dec. 22.

Doug Moseley, co-captain and center, received the greatest honor of his football career when the Associated Press selected him as a first team All-American. Previously, Look Magazine had picked the Luvorne, Ala., senior as the best in the nation.

The AP overlooked Babe Parilli for the second straight year, this time in favor of Baylor's Larry Isbell. Evidently the AP prefers a winning team in preference to records and statistics. Baylor's won-lost record is far superior to UK's but there are no legitimate comparisons between the passing records of Parilli and Isbell. The Babe is way out front.

The announcement that Mississippi State Coach Arthur "Slick" Morton has resigned his position came as a complete surprise. Morton said he intends to enter private business. The Maroons have always been dangerous with Morton at the helm despite the fact their won-lost record isn't the best in the conference.

Cagers Play St. John's Here Monday Night

Cats Will Meet De Paul, U. C. L. A. Before Sugar Bowl

Basketball fans will have to travel no farther than Memorial Coliseum to see the premier attraction of the early season. The two top ranked teams in America, Kentucky and St. John's, clash head-on at 8 o'clock Monday night.

The first Negro ever to play for St. John's and the first ever to play against a Kentucky cage team in Lexington will be in the starting lineup for the Redmen of Coach Frank McGuire.

The only other Negro to play against Kentucky in Lexington played for Michigan State's football team seven years ago.)

The St. John's Negro is Solly Walker, a highly rated sophomore. At 6-4, he is a tremendous rebounder and a speedy performer. Walker was the driving force behind last year's frosh squad which won 17 of 19 games.

Zawoluk Is Star The biggest guns of the Redmen are All-American Bob Zawoluk, 6-7 senior pivot ace, Capt. Jack McMahon, and Ronnie MacGillivray. All have performed brilliantly against the Wildcats in previous engagements.

Zawoluk, the pride of the East, has never been able to outplay Bill Spivey, but what Cliff Hagan can do with the flashy center remains to be seen.

The Kentucky-St. John's contests have been fiercely fought, and this one promises to be the grandpappy of them all. The Wildcats lead 7-2 in the series.

After the St. John's fray, there will be no rest for the Cats. Next Thursday, Dec. 20, they are host to DePaul of Chicago. Usually one of the top teams in the country, DePaul has slipped this year, but Coach Adolph Rupp expects the Demons to give the Cats all they can handle.

DePaul Coach Ray Meyer lost his top men, Bato Govedarica and Clem Pavilonis, by graduation but he will be able to floor a lanky, experienced crew against the Cats. Meyer's starters are 6-3 Ron Fier-eisel, 6-7 Gene Dyker, 6-5 Bill Schyman, 6-6 Russ Johnson, and 5-10 Stan Hoover.

DePaul, which gave the great George Mikan his start up the basketball ladder, dropped both of last year's games to the Cats, who hold a 9-2 edge in the series. The Demons won 13 and lost 12 last season.

Meet UCLA Dec. 26

The Bruins of University of California at Los Angeles provide the opposition for the Cats Dec. 26. Coach John Wooden will bring a youthful, question-mark team to Lexington.

The Bruins have looked promising but ragged in early season games.

They are led by Mike Hibler, 6-7 center who has shown great possibilities.

After the UCLA tilt, the Ruppmen drop down to New Orleans for the games in the Sugar Bowl tournament.

The Cats meet their first Southeastern Conference opponent, Mississippi, Jan. 2 at Owensboro, where Cliff Hagan and Bobby Watson will have a chance to give the hometown fans a treat.

The Cats return home for a Jan. 5 date with LSU and a Jan. 7 game with Xavier.

HAPPY NEW YEAR! Cotton Bowl princess Jean Hardwick paid an early visit to Little Miss 1952. And the little cherub welcomed her with news it will be a happy one for UK football fans. Miss 1952 had the Cotton Bowl game football already autographed for the princess. Miss Hardwick will represent the University in Cotton Bowl festivities. Little Miss '51?—she'll be seeing you Jan. 1.

Education Fraternity To Elect Officers

Delta Pi Epsilon, honorary business education fraternity for graduate students in business education, will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the home of Mrs. Anna P. Mitchell, 309 Cassidy Street, to elect new officers.

Spivey Elected Captain And Watson Alternate

UK Center Returns To Practice After A Knee Operation

The long and the short will lead Kentucky's basketball Wildcats this season.

Bill Spivey, seven-foot All-American center, and Bobby Watson, 5-11 sharpshooting guard, were elected captain and alternate captain, respectively, by the lettermen on the squad this week.

Because Spivey is still out of action following a knee operation, Watson was elected alternate captain. The little long shot artist from Owensboro is the first cager in Kentucky history to be selected for such a position. There is a possibility that a captain may be appointed for each contest until Spivey is ready, because Watson has not started a game this season.

Spivey Discards Crutches Coach Adolph Rupp expressed hope for Spivey's early return to the lineup. The Georgia Pine discarded his specially made crutches a week ago, and has been running and shooting all week.

The candidates for captain were restricted to four seniors on the squad—Spivey, Watson, Shelby Linville, and Skippy Whitaker—which eliminated Frank Ramsey, Cliff Hagan, and Lou Tsiropoulos. Ramsey was acting captain for the Washington and Lee and Xavier games. Ramsey, Tsiropoulos, and Hagan are juniors.

One of the tallest men in collegiate basketball, Spivey has been named to virtually every major All-American team. He has broken many of the records set by his predecessor, Alex Groza. He holds the SEC regular season and tournament scoring records.

Hailing originally from the little town of Warner-Robbins, Ga., "Grills" now makes his home in Macon, Ga. He is majoring in physical education.

Tsiropoulos Leads Ruppmen With 22, Ramsey Scores 17

By Earl Cox

Washington and Lee was scheduled as a warm-up game, but the Generals were hardly that as the Wildcats of Coach Adolph Rupp waltzed to a 96-46 victory last Saturday night in Memorial Coliseum.

The inexperienced Generals had only one outstanding player, captain Jay Handlan, a second team All-American selection and the nation's second highest scorer last year, to throw against the Cats. Led by Lou Tsiropoulos, Kentucky jumped into a 26-7 first quarter lead and never looked back. The Ruppmen led 47-17 at the half, and 69-33 at the third quarter stop.

Tsiropoulos, who played more than any other regular, paced the Cats in scoring with 22 points. He was followed by Frank Ramsey with 17 and Skippy Whitaker with 13.

The rebounding of Tsiropoulos, Hagan and Ramsey was outstanding, but it was an unheralded sophomore from Berea, hustlin' Billy Evans, who won the plaudits of the fans. Evans looked like a dependable reserve, something Rupp says he very badly needs, as he picked up four points, but it was his defensive play that brought a smile to the face of the Man in the Brown Suit. Evans stole the ball on the front line five times.

Rupp used all of the 16 men he had dressed, and 12 of them entered the scoring column.

Twelve UK Seniors Close College Grid Play In Cotton Bowl

Army Has Eye On Most Of Men After Graduation

By Ralph Byron and Marvin Poor

Twelve Kentucky seniors close out brilliant college football careers Jan. 1 against the TCU Horned Frogs in the Cotton Bowl held at Dallas, Texas.

All of the seniors, with the exception of George Claiborne, have participated in both the Orange and Sugar Bowls in previous years.

Great things have been said about these boys by leading newspapers, coaches, and fans throughout the United States, now the Kernel wishes to salute these players in their final appearance with a great ball team that refused to quite when the going became rough. These twelve seniors were the backbone of another fine Kentucky football team.

VITO "BABE" PARILLI: 6-1, 190 lb. quarterback from Rochester, Penn. and co-captain of the "Wildcats" for 1951, has been voted to an All-American berth on numerous teams. Among these are: the United Press, The Sporting News, Gridiron Record, New York News, NEA, INS, and Chicago Tribune, Players Team. A team selected by the players. In addition, the "Kentucky Babe" was selected on eleven All-American teams last season. The Washington, D.C. Touchdown Club selected him as the "Outstanding Back in the Nation" for 1950 and he received additional laurels when named the best player in the SEC for 1951.

Among the records set by Babe during his stay at UK are: passing yardage in one game (338 yards, SEC record, against Cincinnati, 1950), SEC record for touchdowns accounted for in season (28), and touchdown passes in one game (6, against Cincinnati and North Dakota).

Zipp Newman, of the Birmingham

News, says of Parilli: "28,000 said he was wonderful too, but how do they know when they couldn't see what he was doing." Newman, continues: "This Babe Parilli, faking around with the football, is the eighth wonder of the world."

Bill Fay of Colliers magazine said: "Parilli, did everything a T-former quarterback could do—and a little more." Yet Parilli missed the Colliers All-American team for 1951.

BILL "WINNIE" LESKOVAR: 6-2, 195-pound, power driving fullback from Fairmount, W.Va. is 23, and a great favorite on the campus. "Winnie" was injured in the Mississippi game of 1950 and when about to recover was whacked down again in the Tennessee contest at Knoxville that season.

Bill made "Player of the Week" in 1950 after his stellar performance in the Louisiana State game and was among the offensive leaders on the "Wildcat" squad. Though injured much of the season, he had an average gain of 5.7 yards per try. GEORGE CLAIBORNE: 6-1, 195 lb., 23-year-old tackle from Hopkinsville, Kentucky proved a tower of strength on defense for the Cats. George withdrew from school after the 1948 season but returned this season for his final year of eligibility. George is the brother of Jerry Claiborne whom all fans and students will remember as the Cats number one safety man on the '49 Orange Bowl team.

JOHN IGNARSKI: 6-0, 202 lb., 21-year-old guard from South Milwaukee, Wis. played regular offensive right guard on two of the Cats bowl teams and is headed for his third in Dallas.

One of the most underrated players on the squad, Ignarski has been another termed steady and dependable by writers.

John captained the Wisconsin All-State high school team and the all-star team in the North-South game. Coming to the University as one of the best prospects, Ignarski has certainly lived up to advanced notices.

EMORY CLARK: 5-9, 162 lb., native Kentuckian from Carlisle, has been one of the most dependable halfbacks both on offense and defense. Clark reached the peak of perfection in this year Kentucky-Tennessee game and as a result was picked on the Volunteers' all-opponent defensive team. Clark was high on the list of ground gainers for the Cats last year when he averaged 4.8 yards a try from scrimmage. The durable Clark, who is an agriculture major, possesses terrific speed when hitting into the secondary or returning a punt.

DOUG MOSELEY: Moseley is one of the greatest linebackers to ever attend the University of Kentucky. He climaxed an excellent career by being named to the AP and Look All-American teams. In addition, he was nominated to the second team on the Quarterback selections. For two seasons, Doug was virtually unnoticed for his steady play behind the powerhouse lines at Kentucky.

The only recognition came from opposing players who testified to the bone-jarring tackles that Doug has become famous for. This year his caliber of play brought exclamations from everyone having the privilege to see the big 6-1, 200 pound center. Moseley is a Lt. Colonel in the Air Corp R.O.T.C. on the campus and probably will go into the service after his graduation in June of this year.

CLIFF LAWSON: "Buck" has been one of the utility men in the Kentucky line-up for the past three years. He combines a lot of drive and determination to go along with his 6-0, 174 pound frame and is always pushing one of the starting backs for a position on the first eleven. In addition to his football talents, Lawson has been active on the track team for the past two years. Cliff will be in their scrapping for a starting berth on the Cotton Bowl Wildcats on Jan. 1.

BILL CONDE: Bill "Moon" Conde is one of three married men on the current Kentucky squad. He has been forced to take a back seat to such stand-outs as All-American Bob Gain, Walt Yowarsky, Bill Wannamaker, and others. However, this year Bill has been outstanding in the defensive line-up. In the Tennessee game, Conde played a lot of the ball game in the Tennessee backfield while stopping the hard charging backs of the Volunteers. Bill plans to take up coaching when he leaves the campus. He will have a M.A. degree in Education when he graduates next June.

PAUL JONES: Paul is one of the few player-coaches in the United States, having coached the freshman team at the beginning of the season, then stepping into uniform for some of the varsity games later on in the season. Jones was listed as a center, end, quarterback, and defensive back at various times throughout the year.

The 5-11, 175 pound senior is studying Educational Administration and hopes to have a doctor's degree upon graduation. He plans to coach after he leaves Kentucky.

ED HAMILTON: Ed worked into a starting berth at defensive halfback last season but has played both offense and defense in games this year. Ed was handicapped to some extent by injuries in his freshman and sophomore years, but came along in fine style in his junior year and saw considerable action on defense in the backfield. Coach Bryant used Ed on pass receiving in many of the games this season. He is quiet and unassuming and has been one of the best blockers on the team.

JOHN NETOSKIE: John had the ability to become one of the best tackles on the team this year but was handicapped early in the season by recurring injuries. He played at a halfback position in high school, was moved to defensive end when he entered Kentucky, then was later moved to a tackle spot where he has operated this year.

Mackenzie Wasn't Fast Enough And Stayed In The Gator Game

By Asa Barnes

Jim Mackenzie, Wildcat lineman, likes to tell how he happened to play more of the Florida game than anyone intended.

Florida was experiencing a heat wave that day and the hottest place in Florida seemed to be the football field. Going into the fourth quarter, Jim had played most of the game and the heat was beginning to get the best of him. John Ignarski started in from the sidelines and Gene Donaldson, who also had played most of the game without relief, sprinted for the bench. Ignarski arrived at the huddle and said, "Move over to the other guard, Mac. I was sent in for you but it looks like Donaldson beat you to it."

So "Truck" moved over to the other guard and splashed his face with water.

Playing Last Season
When Kentucky collides with TCU's Horned Frogs in the Cotton Bowl, Mackenzie will be playing his last game for the Big Blue. However, this game will probably not mark the end of his playing career. If the SEC rules favorably, Mac, along with Babe Parilli and Doug Moseley, will play in the Senior Bowl on Jan. 9 in Miami. There is another game, too, that Jim would like to play in. That is the All-Star game held next August in Chicago. Since childhood, it has always been his ambition to play in that great game before the people from his hometown.

Not too far from Chicago is Gary, Indiana, the place where Jim was born and the place he still calls home. Jim's father is a surety bond salesman and his mother is a chemistry professor. His sister graduated from the University of Illinois and now teaches dramatics at Paris High school, which, by the way, is Athletic Director Bernie Shively's home town.

Thinks '50 Best Year

Big Jim thinks that his best performances while playing in blue and white togs were in the 1950 LSU game, the Sugar Bowl game this year, and the Tennessee tilt last year. Surprised that all of these games were played last year? "Well," explained Jim, "with Wannamaker and McClendon beside me, and Moseley behind me, I could make a few mistakes and not look bad."

Mackenzie will play professional ball if he gets a satisfactory offer. If not, he plans to return to school for one semester and then take a position either with a construction company or as a salesman. Both jobs have already been offered to him.

Jim will be sorely missed next year by the squad and coaches. This year he played every position in the line except center and in the tough games, he went nearly 60 minutes without relief. He was one of the "holier guys" who kept the team together when it looked as if it wouldn't hold together much longer. His career has been a bright one.

ATO Swimmers Win As SAE Places Second

By Ralph Byron

Aggregating 55 points, the ATO's topped the intramural swimming meet, Dec. 11, at Memorial Coliseum swimming pool. Placing a close second were the SAE's with 50 points. Following in order were DTD with 30, SX with 15, PDT with 12 and SN with 9 points.

The ATO's received a trophy for the team championship, with winners of the individual events taking home ribbons; blue for first, red for second and white for third. Judges for the meet were members of the advanced swimming class and members of the swimming team, with Director of Aquatics Algie Reese, serving as referee.

The meet was described as a tremendous success by Director of Intramurals, Bill McCubbin. McCubbin stated the competition was keen with some very good performances turned in by the participants.

Competition was probably at its peak in the diving event with Lane Taylor (ATO), taking first place over Charlie Sutherland (SAE) by the very narrowest of margins, 118.95 to 118.85. Sutherland, holder of several city diving titles, had been the pre-meet favorite and was expected to take the event from a one meter board. The surprising Taylor pulled through in true champion fashion. Placing behind Sutherland in the diving was Newey (ATO) with 108.5, followed by Riddle (SAE) with 104.8, Burke (DTD) 84.7 and Morris (ATO) with 77.2.

The meet started with the 150 yd. medley relay as SAE took first place after an ATO swimmer was disqualified for using an illegal breast stroke. DTD took second place, followed by SX. ATO was the winner until the disqualifying breast stroke was discovered. The time—1:50.7.

The second race was free style over a 200 yard course. Wallace of SN took first place, Morris of ATO placed second, Holland of SAE clinched third, with fourth place going to Adamson of DTD. The time was—2:54.

The 50 yard free style was next with Baker (ATO) pulling into first place, followed in order by Burkley (PDT), Grote (DTD), Saad (ATO), Taylor (ATO) and Dalton (SX). The time—2:29.4.

The stiff competition in the diving event came next, followed by the 100 yd. free style. The latter event was taken by Burkley of (PDT) in 1:07.6. Behind Burkley came Riddle (SAE), Morris (ATO), Nickel (ATO), Wallace (SN) and Denham (SAE).

The sixth event was the 100 yard back stroke as Stoll (SX) finished ahead of Kissam (ATO) with Grote (DTD) taking the white ribbon. Holland (SAE) completed the course in fourth place with Gray (SAE) and Boylan (DTD) following in that order. Time—1:26.5.

King (DTD), Travis (SAE) and Croft (SAE) finished in that order in the 100 yard breast stroke race with Croft being disqualified for using the scissors kick. The time—1:22.4.

The concluding event was the 200 yd. free style relay with ATO taking the blue ribbon, and SAE the red. DTD was not permitted to compete for the ribbons but was allowed to race for the sake of competition and finished third. Time—2:03.5.

The officials of the contest were pleased with the competition and pronounced the meet a success.

Scoring for the 200 yard free style relay was on the basis of 14 points for a first place, ten for second, eight for third, six for fourth, four for fifth and two for sixth. Scoring in the 150 yard medley relay counted 12 points for first place, nine for second, seven, five, three, and sixth place was good for one point. All other contests were graded by seven for first place, five for second, four, three, two, and one for sixth.

Winners in the quarter finals of the Ping Pong tournament were: Dan Wish (BSR) over Bob Wagoner (PKA); Frank Wiedmer (PKA) over Ken McGee (ATO); Sid Halperen (BSR) over Jack Colson (ATO); and Bud Asch (PKA) over Bill Turpin (ATO).

In the semi-finals, Wish took Wiedmer and Halperen defeated Asch. The tournament presents an all BSR final match which must be completed by Dec. 17.

UK Student Shows At Arts Gallery

Luis Eades, senior art student, is presenting a one-man exhibition at the Creative Arts Gallery on Euclid Avenue. The exhibition will last through Dec. 30.

The exhibition will consist of 12 paintings and 14 drawings and prints. Since 1949 Eades' paintings have appeared in exhibitions at the Cincinnati Art Museum, the Speed Art Museum in Louisville, and at the Fine Arts Gallery at UK. A year ago he held a joint exhibition here with Prof. Raymond Barnhart after a summer's work together in Mexico. In addition, he has been honored with one-man shows in Louisville, and collectors have begun to seek out his work.

Eades was born in Madrid, Spain in 1923. He began his study of art in England at the Bath School of Art and later attended the Slade School in London. He served with the British forces in India during the war, and after that lived two years in Central America and Mexico.

Hagan Leads Cagers' Win Over Xavier

A hot-shooting Xavier University quintet gave the Wildcats all they wanted for three quarters, before succumbing to the might of the Ruppmen, 97-72, Monday night in Cincinnati Gardens.

Center Cliff Hagan had his best night as a collegian, swishing the nets for 29 points to take scoring honors for the Big Blue. Madisonville's Blond Bomber, Frank Ramsey, was close behind with 25, giving him a two-game total of 42. Hagan has hit for a sizzling 69 per cent in the first two games. He has a total of 40 points for the season.

Gene Smith, who makes it a habit of playing his best games against the Wildcats, vanned the Musketeers in scoring with 25. Matt DeBoer, who played last year for Lexington Latin, racked up 10.

Tests Announced By Harvard Dean For Business School

Dean Donald K. David, of Harvard University, has announced the fourth annual nationwide competition for Regional Financial Aid Awards of the Harvard Business School.

Of the 132 awards to be made this year, 110 will be made in the eight regions of the United States, and 22 will be reserved for outstanding students from foreign countries. Twenty awards will be made in the region, which includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

A candidate may apply either from the region in which he is attending college or where he resides. The deadline for applications to the Committee on Student Financial Aid at the Harvard Business School is May 1, 1952.

Requests for further information and for application blanks should be addressed to the Director of Student Financial Aid, Harvard Business School, Boston 63, Mass.

Intramural Title Is Called A Draw

Men's Dorm and SAE have agreed to share the intramural football championship. The former took the championship of the independent division and the latter won the fraternity division.

SAE asked that the game be postponed because of the absence of numerous players. Several of the SAE's are currently on the road with the basketball team in Minneapolis and could not be present for the game. Since no suitable future date could be set for the contest, the two teams decided to share the title of "Campus Champs".
